Emeryville Win Cheers Council

Emeryville's Monday victory in court over San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission was hailed at Albany City Council meeting Monday night.

BCDC had successfully halted Emeryville's tidelands development by court injunction last year. When the commission tried to stop Albany's fill by injunction, the city won a declaratory relief action and continued its fill, but not without continuing BCDC harassment.

Superior Court Judge Robert H. Kroninger Monday issued a "memorandum of judgment" in favor of Emeryville. The decision is considered a major defeat of BCDC and vindication of Albany's stand. In each case, BCDC determined the city did not have a "project" under way by September, 1965, when BCDC was created through the McAttee Petis Act.

"I have been disappointed that BCDC chose this particular route (court injunction)," Mayor Richard Clark said. "It would have been better and easier to negotiate a settlement with Albany and Emeryville."

H said BCDC, in his opinion, has not been so interested in Bay conservation as in the power struggle over who will govern the region.

"They chose this route and gave the cities no alternative," Clark said. "The court has shown the 1965 law was written as we described it."

Councilman Lewis Howell said, "It is important that the citizens, Council and Planning and Zoning move along and develop the waterfront now. I hope everyone in the community will work together for the benefit of the citizens of the future."

UN BOOTH

Council Overrules P&Z On Change in CE-4 Zoning

Many property owners successfully staged a "Kains Mutiny" at City Council Monday night with the result that Councilmen voted 3-1 to overrule the Planning and Zoning amendment to rezone two blocks of Kains and one block of Adams from CE-4 to CE-3.

CE-4 permits apartments. CE-3 would prohibit apartments and allow only commercial expansion from San Pablo Ave.

Headed by James Simmons as spokesman, about 15 property owners in the affected 1000 and 1100 blocks of Kains attended the meeting to protest the change.

Simmons said that of the 29 property owners affected, 27 did not want the change and 23 signed the petition. He urged Council not to overlook the wishes of 75 per cent of property owners who protested.

He displayed a colored map which indicated current property uses on the two blocks of Kains. He told of interviewing every business owner on San Pablo Ave., and of their disinterest in expanding back into Kains.

Also speaking against the change were Frank Dill of Berkeley and Realtor Jerome Blank. No property owner on San Pablo Avenue appeared on behalf of the change in zoning. Introduced into the record at the Public Hearing Next Monday

Albany City Council has set 8 p.m. next Monday night, Aug. 28, as the time for a public hearing on the proposed property transfer tax.

Although precise details have not been settled, Councilmen have discussed a $25 minimum, which could go as high as one per cent after $10,000.

Pro and con views are encouraged next Monday.

Senator Sherman Praised Here

When Senator Lewis F. Sherman dropped in unexpectedly at Albany City Council meeting Monday night, he was introduced by Mayor Richard Clark as one who "has done one of the outstanding jobs Albany has ever had done for it in Sacramento."

Sherman presented Albany with documents indicating legislative approval of charter amendments voted by the people at the last election.

As he left, Sherman told Mayor Clark that he was incorrectly identified on his desk. The nameplates of Clark and Councilman Joe Carlevaro had been switched.

beginning of the two-hour public hearing were majority and minority reports from the Planning and Zoning commission, which roused the ire of councilmen, who wondered when and how it had been decided to submit such reports.

"We should come to a public meeting with an open mind," Councilman Lewis Howell objected.

The proposed change passed Planning and Zoning commission 3-2 with Chairman Arthur Longpre, William Davis and William A. Johnson in favor and Carl

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF ALBANY AMENDING CHAPTER 7, SECTION 7.10, SUBSECTION (c) OF THE ALBANY CITY CODE, 1958.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ALBANY DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1: That Chapter 7, Section 7.10, Subsection (c) of the Albany City Code, 1958, shall be amended by adding the following paragraph thereto:

"In the event that only partial plans are submitted on a proposed project, pursuant to an application for a Use Permit or Variance in accordance with Ordinance No. 61-011, the entire plan-check fee, as required above, shall be paid and said sum shall not be refundable, except that in the event the Use Permit or Variance is denied, one-half (1/2) of said plan-checking fee will be refunded upon request of applicant."

Section 2: This Ordinance is declared to be an urgency or emergency Ordinance of the City of Albany for preserving the public peace, health or safety. The reason for the urgency connected with said Ordinance is the anticipated submission of plans and specifications for large construction projects in the very near future, which may require Use Permits or Variances, and which carry no assurances that a building permit will be applied for; that by reason of the magnitude of the proposed construction, a large amount of City staff time is required for the plan checking before a building permit is applied for.

Alberito BPW Offers Two Items at Show

Members of Alberito Business and Professional Women's club will offer two lovely "little gift" items at the weekend Albany Arts, Crafts and Hobby show.

The first, selling for $1, is a Vigilante Whistle, an absolute must for women and girls. One blast on the shrill whistle would scare off a would-be attacker and be heard for some distance. An earlier stock of the whistles was sold out almost immediately.

Also available for $1 is the "Praying Hands" pen with a clever gift enclosure card with inserts making it applicable for several occasions. The enclosure tells the story of the "Praying Hands."

In the last half of the 15th Century, two struggling artists, Albrecht Durer and Franz Knigstein, were working hard in order to continue their studies in art. They finally agreed to draw lots in order for one to continue studying while the other worked to support him. Durer won and vowed to return and help Knigstein complete his art course. He went on to develop his talent and genius.

THANKS FOR WRITING

Copy of letter to:
The Honorable Ronald Reagan,
Governor
State of California
State Capitol
Sacramento, California 95814
Dear Governor Reagan:

The approval of AB 504-Miller by both houses of the Legislature by overwhelming vote brings to fruition 10 years of effort by the Albany Unified School District to gain recognition of the fact that the State of California, through its University, has imposed a financial burden upon the local property owner for the education of over 14 per cent of its school district enrollment who reside in the tax exempt married students University Village in our community.

During the years of World War II, University Village (then named Codornices Village) was a Federal Housing project on University owned property. At that time for each child in the Albany Schools there was provided a substantial Federal subsidy since no property tax for school support could be levied. At one time as many as one fourth of the Albany School enrollment was so housed.

Following World War II and the Korean conflict the Federal interest was withdrawn, the property reverted to the University and a housing project for University of California married students developed, about 1954. By 1957, 91 children were in residence in University Village and enrolled in the Albany Schools.

It was at this time that the school district made its first effort to gain recognition of the fact that the State was causing an impaction. We called to the attention of the Regents of the University that over four per cent of the school district enrollment (1957) were children residing on tax-exempt, State-owned property.

Since 1957 the State, through its University, has continued to build, until at the present time there are 919 residential units from which come an average of 300 children each year to the Albany Schools.

It is true that the State of California does guarantee a minimum specified sum for the education of each child in its several school districts and Albany is no exception. The problem for Albany, however, lies in the fact that the difference between the State apportionment for each University connected child and the total cost for that child's education must be subsidized by a levy on the taxable property of the district. In brief, the district is not able to levy its tax uniformly on all property on which children reside.

For example, in 1965-66 the Albany per pupil cost of education was approximately $541. The per pupil State apportionment at the elementary level was $167; thus, the taxable property subsidized each University connected child by $374. By a computational formula AB 504 would in large measure rectify this gross inequity. The total would not be $374 times each of 300 children from University Village but rather through the equalization aid and State apportionment formula built into the bill reduce the total amount of added State support to an estimated $65,000 per annum.

In each legislative session since 1957, the "Albany State-impacted School District Problem" has been presented to the Legislature. It has cleared the Assembly at least once; gone to interim study, and been subjected to special study involving the State Department of Education, the Analyst's office and the School District. The results have always been the same! Albany has a problem as does any school district which has three per cent of its students residing on University-owned property.

AB 504 finally recognizes the problem and awaiting your signature, Honored Sir, provides a reasonable and practical solution to that problem.

The State expense under AB 504 is estimated to be approximately $65,000 per year. This would provide opportunity for the Albany Board of Education to consider a decrease in the local property tax of up to 25 cents in 1968-69 from the $5.27 to be levied for 1967-68. The people of Albany have been generous in the support of their schools. A recently as November of 1966 they authorized an added 75 cents increase in order to maintain a quality program under local control. To continue to subsidize the education of children who reside on tax exempt property is increasingly more burdensome.

The residents of University Village come from all over the State, the Nation, the World. The problem is not of our making, but that of our State through its University. Our small residential community is desperately in need of financial support. The residents of University Village are students. Their incomes are limited, their economic contribution to the Albany community is especially in minor taxable purchases. AB 504 was skillfully guided through the House and Senate committees by Assemblyman John Miller and on the Senate Floor by Lewis Sherman, both of whom are keenly attuned to the Albany problem. Mr. Governor, we respectfully request your approval of this bill which will permit us to consider a property tax reduction for the next fiscal year and which mitigates and rectifies a long standing financial inequity.

Respectfully,
The Board of Education
Albany Unified School District

PETRIS CONCERNED WITH BARTD CHANGES

Senator Nicholas Petris (Dem., Alameda County) has expressed concern with the proposed changes in the plans for building BARTD.

"I am greatly disturbed by the recommendations of the BARTD Engineering Committee's proposal to postpone service to the City of Fremont," he said.

"A more equitable proposal would have been to postpone service to the Daly City and San Mateo areas since they chose to withdraw any support of Rapid Transit whereas the City of Fremont has been contributing to the system by the payment of taxes over the past three years."

Senator Petris continued, "At least I would urge that entire system be completed prior to the introduction of commuter trains. In my opinion, delaying the use of rolling stock would guarantee the completion of the system in its entirety. I am not convinced that we can rely on BART representations to expedite construction once the system is partially completed."

"I affirm my belief," the Senator said, "in the need for such an undertaking, but I feel that the

THREE ALBANY FIREMEN COMPLETE COURSES

Three Albany Firemen were recently awarded "Certificates of Completion" for having successfully completed a study course in Emergency Rescue Techniques.

The men, Nestor Mestas, Thomas Oakley and Frank West, each devoted 54 hours of off-duty time to complete the course at Merritt College in Oakland.

The topics covered in the course included Rescue Practices, Emergency Care, Radio Active Hazards, Rescue Equipment and Medical Rescue Techniques. The methods and techniques used in emergency rescue work are ever changing and new ideas are being introduced every day. In keeping up with these new and more efficient methods, these firemen have taken it upon themselves to become better educated and better able to perform their jobs under emergency conditions. The three unit accredited course can also be applied to an Associate of Arts Degree in Fire Sciences which many of the firemen are working toward in their off shift time.

More recently, four firemen

DICK McSHEEHY of the Fire Department also plans to run the "Little Miss Flame" contest with a few changes. He's going to ask the various clubs and organizations to sponsor candidates. This was a great retail promotion last year with participation far beyond the wildest dreams of the firemen. Candidates may be five to eight years old.

attended a seminar on explosives and napalm fires that may occur in transportation. This was conducted at the Naval Weapons Depot, Port Chicago, on July 12. Those attending were Chief Gerald Browne, Captain William Landrot, Firemen Gerald Vittow and Dennis O'Sullivan.

Lennox Slides Monday for Fidelis Shrine

Fidelis Shrine 60, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, will hold their stated meeting Aug. 28, according to Worthy High Priestess Ionia Robbin and Watchman of the Shepherds Eugene Robbin. Fred and Edith Lennox will present a program of colored slides and a talking tour of their recent trip to Alaska. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at Albany Temple, 533 San Pablo Ave. All members and visiting sojourners are invited to attend.

Pottery by Earle Curtis Displayed at Library

Earle Curtis of San Francisco is showing works of pottery at the Albany Library during the month of August.

Born in Portland, Ore., in 1918, he received his BS in 1940, with a major in painting and drawing. In 1941, he was an assistant supervisor in a WPA art center in La Grande, Ore. In the fall of 1941, he hitch-hiked to New York City and placed second in a competitive scholarship at the Cooper Union School of Art.

After World War II, during which he saw action in Guadalcanal and won a citation on Tarawa, he returned to Cooper Union briefly in 1944, and worked in advertising and illustration in New York for about a year. In 1947, he finished an MFA in painting at the University of Oregon.

For the next six years, he worked out of his own workshop in Elmira, Ore. He received a fellowship for ceramic design at Ohio State in Columbus, and following this, moved to Sausalito where he worked for Heath Ceramics for eight years. During this time, he was setting up a workshop at home, out of which he now works full time, selling his works in Mendocino and Berkeley as well as San Francisco.

The down-draft kiln used in the work exhibited was designed and built by the potter as well as the workshop and equipment.

Earle studied during the summer of 1958 with Marguerite Wildenhain at Pond Farm near Guerneville.

He fires to cone 10 in reduction, and uses his own design ideas and glazes.

"RED" WALTER has joined the sales staff of Jim Woulfe Ford, Inc., announced Jim Woulfe, president. Walter has served many years with the State Department of Motor Vehicles at Berkeley. He has lived in California some 30 years, 20 of them in the Bay Area. He and his wife and six-year-old son live in El Cerrito.

Rachel Landes Art at Library

Paintings by Rachel Landes are on display at the Albany Library during the month of August.

Mrs. Landes, a graduate of the University of California, has been painting for the last 15 years. She began her studies in casein and watercolor under George Post and Richard Yip. Later, she studied oils with Cameron Booth, Felix Ruvolo and Martha Borge. She also has worked under Jason Schoener, and most recently, Harry Krell, at the California College of Arts and Crafts.

Her present collages employ acrylic paints. The deep transparencies and veining is obtained, the artist states, by using a variety of thin papers. A heightened sensitivity to textures has resulted from working in this medium, and the artist feels she has greatly extended her inventiveness with it.

Mrs. Landes is an active contributing member of all the larger artists' organizations in the East Bay, Marin County and the Walnut Creek area. She has shown in most of the annuals in these areas, and has taken many awards. Her entry last December, in the Lytton Savings show of the Oakland Art Association, took second prize.

The artist resides in the Lakeshore district of Oakland.

Boy Scouts At Camp

Fabulous is the word in the hearts of Scouts who experience a week or two camping at Mt. Diablo Council Camp Wolfboro this summer.

Fascination in their minds, for where else could one ride a model gin pole constructed by a pioneering merit badge class, or have a college boy show you the many wonders of nature. A bird fallen from its nest, a porcupine, the bugs and beetles and how to make a collection. To swim, to hike or just complete that 2nd or 1st class Scout rank.

Feasible it is, for that is the attitude of the camp staff in working out programs with camp Scoutmasters. It was overheard at a session program planning roundtable, "If you don't find it here and it relates to Scout camping, tell us and if we have the materials, we'll build it."
